Managerial Finance Dec 04 2022 Managerial Finance provides a clear and readable explanation of the most important topics managers should understand about business finance. These include resource management, investment and decision making, as well as the practical use of financial ratios and performance indicators. Real examples and case studies are used throughout to illustrate points in a practical context. The book is based upon the Management Charter Initiative's Occupational Standards for Management NVQs and SVQs at Levels 4 & 5 and is also particularly suitable for managers on Certificate and Diploma in Management programmes, including those accredited by the IM and Edexcel (formerly BTEC). Managerial Finance is part of the highly successful series of textbooks for managers which cover the knowledge and understanding required as part of any competency based management programme. The books cover the three main levels of management: supervisory/first-line management (NVQ level 3), middle management (Certificate/NVQ level 4) and senior management (Diploma/NVQ level 5). Alan Parkinson is the Hill Samuel Senior Lecturer in Accounting & Finance at the Open Business School. He was previously responsible as Director of the Open University MBA Programme for launching the highly successful MBA Course.

Issues and Readings in Managerial Finance Sep 20 2021 This book gives students a broader perspective on the primary issues of financial management. Features: * New to this edition: * Parts are reorganized to coincide with the organization of most corporate finance texts, e.g., working capital topics have been placed after long-term financing and capital budgeting topics. * Within each topic, a classic article is reproduced, followed by recent works which either challenge this concept or offer a completely new perspective. Where available, a tutorial reading follows the classic to summarize the central ideas of the piece. One example is the continuing debate over the validity of beta and the recent criticisms regarding CAPM. * Readings are now at a higher level without emphasizing mathematics, in order to appeal to the case, theory and applications courses on the MBA level

Corporate Finance Jan 01 2020 The second edition is the most up-to-date and relevant book on the market. It has been restructured to match the way the course is taught. Theory: No other MBA book will be as current or as comprehensive in covering theory. Applications: Special effort was made to build cross-functional applications in the book?in examples and in the end-of-chapter problems. The material is relevant to all students of business, not just finance majors. Greater focus is given on Excel as a tool to solve finance problems including SmartExcel appendices. Practice: Mini cases are added to increase the number of analytical (critical thinking) problems. In addition, there is a wealth of resources to assist the student in practicing the concepts in the book, most significantly, SmartFinance. SmartFinance online resources are integrated within the text with an icon directing the student to accompanying reinforcement/resource. SmartFinance includes: *SmartConcepts - animations to help students work through those most difficult quantitative financial concepts in a chapter. *Smart Ideas - video clips of the academic explaining a theory they developed or heavily researched. *SmartPractices - videos clips of industry executives talking about how the concept being covered relates to real companies. *SmartEthics - video clips of industry executives or academics speaking about impact ethics or lack there of has in the marketplace. *SmartQuizzing - quizzes for each chapter that help students check their degree of understanding of chapter concepts.

Principles of Finance May 17 2021 The first course in finance for finance and business majors has traditionally focused solely on managerial (or corporate) finance. Now, many schools are indicating a need to introduce these students - particularly the non-finance business majors - to the other two major components of finance - institutions and investments - in this first course but at the same level of rigor as traditional financial management texts. With PRINCIPLES OF FINANCE, Scott Besley and Gene Brigham begin with a discussion of the principles of financial systems and business organizations, and move on to valuation concepts and corporate decision making (managerial finance). They conclude with coverage of investment fundamentals. Key chapters may be covered in a one-term course or supplemented with cases and outside readings for a two-term course. Chapters are written in a flexible, modular format, allowing instructors to cover the material in their favorite sequence.
